

THE BULLDOG TRUST 2014 UPDATE

Winter Exhibition Programme at Two Temple Place

Discoveries is the third show in our Winter Exhibition Programme and we are excited to be building upon the successes of William Morris: Story Memory Myth (2011/2) and Amongst Heroes: the artist in working Cornwall (2013). As the only London venue solely devoted to raising the profile of collections from outside London, we look forward to announcing our 2015 exhibition in February 2014 which will continue our collaboration with the Courtauld Institute supporting emerging curators. We are again providing free literacy workshops and education resource packs to London primary schools and welcoming many new groups and community organisations to the 2014 exhibition.

What else happens at Two Temple Place?

As well as the successful re-launch of the commercial events and private hire business (contact events@twotempleplace.org or 020 7836 3715 to enquire) our 2013 highlights included a royal visit to Amongst Heroes from the Duchess of Cornwall and welcoming the US Ambassador, Matthew Barzun as part of our ongoing partnership with the Fulbright Commission. Friends of Two Temple Place were given the unique opportunity to sit in on company class and rehearsals as part of a three month choreography fellowship for the New English Ballet Theatre in between visits from patrons including Darcey Bussell and Valentino Zucchetti. Our associated charities also benefited from subsidised staff development workshops – improving communication techniques in the grand surroundings of the Great Hall is certainly an inspiration!

Charities Love Business Skills

Two Temple Place is home to our Engaging Experience Philanthropy Network for professionals interested in offering their skills to charities. In 2013 membership reached over 900 and the network helped more than 200 charities find new trustees and obtain legal, strategic or business advice. Online and through our fun events here at Two Temple Place, we continue to introduce dynamic charities and help members exchange experiences and knowledge. Last year events were hosted with award winning organisation Young Philanthropy, Rainmaker Foundation and the Fulbright Commission including a lecture from Alan Davey, Chief Executive of the Arts Council. ### Grant Making 2013 saw the continuing success of our 'revolutionary "criteria-free" grant-making scheme'. Our collaborative funding initiative with The Golden Bottle Trust provides small to medium sized charitable organisations with the chance to access development funding between £1,000 to £30,000. See our case studies for a sample of the exceptional projects we are proud to have been able to support.

See our websites www.twotempleplace.org for more information on private hire or the exhibition and www.bulldogtrust.org for our other charitable activities.

Charity Case Study: Street Doctors

Street Doctors are changing attitudes. The dynamic charity, founded by a medical student in Liverpool in 2008 to teach young offenders skills and confidence in pre-hospital care, has shown how knowledge can help defeat violence. Street Doctors recruits volunteer medical students and doctors to teach young offenders the immediate management of traumatic injuries. In 2013 the Bulldog Trust helped Street Doctors transition from being a small scale student voluntary organisation to a national movement teaching over 13,600 youths in 2014.
